WASHINGTON, April 3.—The President has carried out his plans for the reorganization of the isthmian Canal Commission as to personnel and business methods, generally on the line of the legislation which he suggested to Congress at the last session, but which failed in the crush of business in the last session, but which failed in the crush of business in the last session.

gress at the last session, but which failed in the crush of business in the closing hours.

To-day, within half an hour after the President's departure from Washinston, Secretary Taft, directly in charge of canal matters, made public the personnel of the new commission and the division of duties among the members. Only one member of the old commission was reappointed, Benjamin M. Harrod, Otherwise the commission is new from top to bottom, for there is a top and bottom and considerable difference between the functions and pay of the commissioners. Finding he was obliged legally to appoint seven commissioners, there President did so, but he carried out his own plan by making three of them practically the commission. The other four, though bearing the title of commissioners, not only receive a much lower compensation, but are assigned much smaller fields of activity. The President also has carried out his scheme of dividing up the work of canal building among the commissioners, so that nominally acting as a body on stated occasions, each individual member will operate in a special field.

The first reads as follows:

"The President has made an order allowing a salary of $1500, with traveling expenses, to each member of the commission, and to the chairman of the commission, and to the chairman of the commission of $22500; to the chief engineer the additional compensation of $10,000. The head of each department is allowed the use of a furnished house upon the isthmus, and his traveling expenses, when traveling on the business of the commission.

"The total is $102,500. The salaries and allowances under the former commission amounted to $120,000. The total come and the chief engineer are in effect unchanged.

President's Statement.

Scoretary Taft's letter makes a number of recommendations as to the reorganisation of the commission, all of which are embodied and set forth in the President's order. Particular attention is paid to the question of an advisory board of engineers to determine the matter of a sea level canal and to the delegation by the commission itself of most of its work to an executive committee. The President's reply, which embodies the action of the executive, provides that the commission sall hold quarrerly session on the Isthmus of Panama, and that;

the commission sall hold quarterly session on the Isthmus of Panama, and That:

"The commission, under the supervision and direction of the Becretary of War and subject to the approval of the President, is charged with the general duty of the adoption of plans for the construction and maintenance of the work of the same: with the purchase and delivery of supplies, michinery and necessary plant: the omployees and laborers and with the flaing of their salaries and wages; with the commercial operation of the Panama Railroad Company and its steamship lines, as common carriers; with the utilization of the railroad as a means of constructing the canal; with AContinued on Third Page.)

REUNION OF ROUGH RIDERS

Leaving Texas, Will Hunt Wolves in Oklahoma and Big Game in Colorado,

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON. April 2.—With cheers and good wishes resounding through the Pennsylvania Rallroad station, President Roosevelt left at 9:66 A. M. to-day on a special train for a trip through the Southwest. The special train, which is one of the finest the Pennsylvania Rallroad ever has sent out of Washington, consists of three cars, the President's private car, Rocket; the Pullman sleeper, Forrest, and the combination baggage and buffet car, Viceroy. The train is particularly the same property of the passengers.

The train was scheduled to leave at 20 clock, but it was a minute after that hour when the President arrived at the station. He had been delayed on the way from the White House by a slight accident to one of the horses attached to his carriage, which fell and became entangled in the harness. It was just five minutes after the scheduled time of departure when the train drew out of the station.

In the party, besides the President, were Secretary William Loeb, Jr., General S. B. M. Young, Dr. Alexander Lambert, Lieutenant G. R. Fortescue, one of the President's aides; M. C. Latta and J. L. McGrew, stenographers to the President, H. A. Strohmeyer, photographer, and representatives of the newspaper press associations. (By Associated Press.)

Places He Will Visit.

The trip is made primarily to enable the President to attend the reunion of is old regiment, the Rough Riders, which is to be held at San Antonio, exas, next Friday, and to hunt bigame in Oklahoma and Colorado. Incl-

on the way, among them Sherman and Dallas, Texas.

After leaving San Antonio, the President will go to Oklahoma for a wolf hunt, and proceed thence to Colorado to hunt big game in the mountains. Unless it should be necessary on account of unforeseen circumstances to curtail the trip, the President will be absent from

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) (From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 3.—Whitelaw Reid, who has been appointed ambassador at the Court of St. James, is in a bad frame of mind, it is said, over the refusal of Ambassador Choate to give up the post. The new ambassador made his arrangements to go to London almost as soon as his appointment was confirmed by the Senate, severing his connection with the New York Tribune, and otherwise arranging for a stay of several years abroad. He expected that Mr. Choate would at once vacate the ambassadorship, so that the new ambassador and his family could take part in the functions of the London season, which is just about at its height. But Mr. Choate holds on,
He does not want to give up the place,
it is said, and, especially, he does not want to leave London, "deah old Lunnon," until the close of the social season. So he is clinging on, and Whitelaw
